

TIME-BASED EVALUATION OF DATA VERIFICATION RESULTSABSTRACT

The present invention is directed to a system and method for evaluating verification of data by an operator. The data is presented to the operator on a computer-controlled display and a time duration is measured over which the operator interacts with the display in verifying the presented data. The time duration is indicative of the reliability of the verification of the data by the operator.

SEARCHED INDEXED SERIALIZED FILED